

BELIEVE LAW'S GOVERNMENT NOW DOOMED

Premier However, Denies
That He Will Resign Account of Health

LLOYD GEORGE ACTIVE
Reports Indicate Friction
Within Cabinet Adds
To Trouble

London, April 16.—Despite Premier Andrew Bonar Law's prompt denial that he will resign on account of impaired health and the loss of political prestige, hostile newspapers predicted today that his Tory government could not last three months longer. Friendly newspapers emphasized the premier's denial, charging that reports of impending resignation are due to systematic propaganda put out by former Premier David Lloyd George, Austen Chamberlain and their supporters.

Newspapers supporting the Bonar Law administration claim that the Liberal and unionist adherents of Lloyd George are doing their utmost to weaken the prestige of the Bonar Law government. They assert that Chamberlain, Lord Birkenhead, Sir Robert Horne and others who were in the Lloyd George cabinet are anxious to remove Bonar Law.

From all reports it is apparent that there is friction within the cabinet which adds to the cares of the premier.

The "die hard" element is in control while the more liberal members are ignored. It seems fairly certain, however, that Bonar Law will not quit until he can find a successor agreeable to both factions of the ministry.

It was regarded as possible that Chancellor of the Exchequer Stanley Baldwin might make such a popular hit with his budget this afternoon that he would be acclaimed the logical successor to Bonar Law. Chancellor Baldwin introduced many popular measures in the budget, such as a reduction of the tax on beer and a reduction of the income tax.

Bonar Law is suffering from a throat ailment which causes much annoyance. It is difficult for him to talk at times. Otherwise he seems to be in fairly good condition. He is able to play tennis frequently. He has the appearance, however, of a man physically and mentally tired. He lacks the robust energy of Lloyd George, the sturdy Welsh statesman. The Daily Chronicle, which is close to Lloyd George, understands that he has received two invitations to visit America. One was from the United States, the other from Canada. The former premier replied that, owing to the uncertain political situation he could not give a definite answer at this time. If Lloyd George accepts, his itinerary is expected to include Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Washington and possibly Denver.

MISS ROBERTSON NAMED TO BUREAU

Washington, April 16.—President Harding today signed an executive order permitting the appointment of Miss Alice Robertson, former congresswoman from Oklahoma as a welfare worker in the United States Veterans' Bureau. Miss Robertson was defeated for reelection last year.

The exact nature of her new duties have not been defined. The purpose of the executive order was to set aside the civil service regulations so the appointment could be made without examination.

RECEIVER TAKES OVER STEEL PLANT

Columbus, Ohio, April 16.—Acting under authority of Franklin County Common Pleas Judge Sowers, Attorney Fred N. Sinks, Columbus, today in his capacity as receiver, took charge of the Pittsburgh Tin Plate and Steel Corporation plant at Marietta. The plant covers 12 acres.

The action of the local court was in response to a request by Armstrong and Okey, Columbus stenographic firm, for appointment of a receiver. It is claimed the Marietta corporation owes $18,000, as unpaid taxes; $16,000 as mechanics liens; $2,500 judgment liens; $70,000 on claims pending the Washington County courts and $1,185, due Armstrong and Okey for stenographic services.

MOOSE TO ERECT BUILDINGS.

Columbus, April 16.—Moose lodges of Ohio soon are to erect a group of five buildings, to be known as the "Ohio Plaza," on the grounds of Mooseheart school at Mooseheart, Ill. The central building will be an exact replica of the state house here. This group of buildings will house Moose orphans of Ohio, and will be the pride of members of the order throughout the state.

LABOR LEADERS STIR PARLIAMENT

Ramsay MacDonald, Labor Leader of the British House of Commons, led the Laborites in their demonstration against the A. Bonar Law Cabinet, singing "Red" songs. The disorder was so great when Chancellor of the Exchequer Stanley Baldwin sought to defend the Government, that Speaker John Henry Whitley was forced to suspend the session.

Dancing Craze Continues; Court Unable To Stop It

Five Couples in New York One-Step From Floor to Truck
and Thence, Dancing, to New Jersey Side
To Evade Ordinance.

New York, April 15.—Without missing a single step, five couples out for marathon dancing honors one-stepped from a New York dancing floor early today to a truck, and dancing still, were ferried over to New Jersey beyond the jurisdiction of a New York court.

The court sought to end the dance under a section of the penal code passed in the early days of six day bicycle racing and which prohibits endurance contests for a longer period than twelve hours of every twenty four.

In New Jersey there are no such inhibitions and when the manager of the dance hall was served with a summons he transferred the whole tournament to another floor in Fort Lee, N. J. 12 miles distant where the contestants continued the grind that began at 7:10 Saturday night.

If they are still on their feet at 1:10 Tuesday afternoon, the record of 65 hours and 30 minutes, established yesterday at Houston, Texas, by Miss Magdalene Williams will be shattered by thirty minutes.

Houston, Texas, April 16.—Miss Magdalene Williams, a Texas beauty, having danced 65 hours and 30 minutes, ceased shuffling about at 3:08 p. m. Sunday, called it a record and went home waiting to hear from others in Cleveland, New York and Baltimore who aspire to be world champion long distance dancers.

The record was made at McMillan's dancing academy here, 21 couples having set forth at 9:15 p. m. Thursday with a cash prize and a trip to New York as the goal for the best record.

Miss Williams, a winner also in a recent beauty contest, danced steadily through two days and three nights and the greater part of a third day, while couple after couple, unable to stand the pace, dropped out. To the very last step, she exhibited very little exhaustion and for a swan song she staged as lively a one-step as she did on the first night.

Cleveland, April 16.—Russell Brady, 22 year old Irishman who set out to establish the supremacy of the male even on the dance floor, was forced to quit early today after 43 hours and 28 minutes of dancing. A physician told him if he continued longer he would probably be permanently lame.

Miss Madeline Gattschalk, who started her marathon dance at 3 p. m. Saturday, was still going strong at 9 o'clock today, after 42 hours, while a number of others, with less hours to their credit were still in the contest for the honors now worn by Miss Williams.

Six men were in the raiding party, according to Joseph Stachura, relief watchman, overpowered by the bandits.

He furnished police with a partial description of the raiders and the truck in which they fled.

Magdalene Williams of Houston, Texas.

There will be no police interference here, Police Chief Jacob W. Grau told the International News Service. "Dancing, unless obscene, is not covered by the criminal code," he said.

BLAMES OFFICIALS FOR LAXITY IN LAWS

Columbus, April 16.—Prohibition Director McDonald issued a statement declaring that enforcement of the prohibition laws would be easy if officials would keep inviolate their oaths of office. Too many policemen, constables and sheriffs, prosecuting attorneys, county commissioners, justices of the peace, mayors and even common pleas judges, McDonald said, fail to enforce the laws against bootleggers. "Some fail because of their appetite for booze, some for political and other unrighteous reasons," he said. "In two or three counties of the state the prosecuting attorney and the common pleas court apparently adopt every possible means to indict all the enforcement officers with only the inferior courts putting forth an honest effort to do their duty under the law."

PREACHER PROMISES TO STAND ON HEAD

Newport, Ky., April 16.—"If this church isn't filled Monday night I'll either stand on my head or eat my hat," said the Rev. James ("Big Jim") Cramer, Los Angeles evangelist in a sermon at the First Baptist Church here, where he is conducting a revival.

The text of his sermon was "Riding Blind Baggage." It netted 25 converts.

Members of the congregation were surprised when the plate was passed and the deacons called out each donation of a quarter or more.

"Two bits!" called out the deacons and the response of the preacher was "thanks!"

"Four bits!" elicited the evangelist, "Bless you!"

"One buck" drew forth one "Glory Hallelujah!"

Philadelphia, April 16.—Henry G. Brock, wealthy banker, society and club man, today pleaded guilty to second degree murder in connection with the killing of three persons by his motor car in March.

At the time of the triple tragedy, Brock was arrested in a dazed condition several squares from the scene, standing beside his car which was damaged and bloodstained.

Brock was the first person to be indicted on a murder charge in this state in connection with a motor fatality.

NINE HUNDRED MISSING WHEN WIND SUBSIDES

Reports Magnify Disaster
Accompanying Terrific
Storm in Korea

CLARA PHILLIPS IN CENTRAL AMERICA DECLARES MEXICAN

Hammer Murderess Who
Escaped From Jail Said
To be in Honduras.

Mexico City, Mex., April 16.—Clara Phillips, notorious hammer murderess who made a sensational escape from jail in California several months ago, recently fled from Mexico City to Honduras, Central America, according to Valentia Quintana, chief of the Mexican secret service, who in an interview with International News Service today revealed the strenuous efforts of the Mexican authorities to capture the slayer.

She was accompanied by Jesse Carsen and while here the couple was registered as "Mr. and Mrs. Carsen, New Orleans."

Clara Phillips and her male companion registered at the Hotel St. Francis on January 23," said Senor Q. Intina.

(The St. Francis is a leading hotel in the heart of the business district.) "They were registered as Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Carsen from New Orleans. They remained at the hotel three days, leaving there for a private residence located on one of the principal residential streets of Mexico City."

"The hotel clerk at the St. Francis, Juan Faustino, when shown a picture of the murderess identified her as the woman who occupied suite 11 as Mrs. Carsen.

SENTENCED TO DIE BUT COURT ACTS

Canton, O., April 16.—Charles Brooks, sentenced to die in the electric chair by the common pleas court of Perry County was given a new lease on life by the court of appeals for this district in a decision handed down here today.

Brooks was sentenced by the Perry County court after he had pleaded guilty to first degree murder and the court had examined witnesses to determine the degree of guilt.

It developed that he at first told the court that he would employ his own attorney then later found himself unable to do so and asked for appointment of counsel.

In the meantime, he entered a plea of guilty but his attorney appealed on the ground that he did not comprehend the purport of his actions and the appeals court granted a new trial. The case has involved many legal points in Ohio criminal laws.

BAKER IS SILENT ON COLLEGE OFFER

Cleveland, O., April 16.—"I cannot discuss the matter," Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, told International News Service, when asked if he would accept the presidency of West Virginia University, reported to have been offered him.

An announcement or discussion of the matter would have to come from the State Board of Education or the trustees of the university.

"I have absolutely nothing to say at this time," said Mr. Baker.

STEAMER BURNS

Bellair, O., April 16.—Fire of unknown origin today destroyed the steamer H. D. Hulings at the docks of the Cleveland and Western Coal Company at Pipe Creek, just below this place, with an estimated loss of $60,000. The coal docks were slightly damaged. The crew escaped uninjured.

RAIDED BY DRY AGENTS.

Youngstown, O., April 16.—Prohibition agents raided the soft drink saloon of Peter Sirbu here and found 480 gallons of liquor, they say. Sirbu and Romeo Vasu, to whom he sold the business recently, were arrested.

DEVALERA AGAIN REPORTED CAUGHT

Eamon de Valera

Dublin, April 16.—Eamon de Valera, head of the Irish Republican movement and the most spectacular figure in turbulent Irish politics, was reported today to have been captured by Free State troops at Roundwood, County Wicklow, 25 miles from Dublin.

Up to noon, Free State military headquarters in Dublin were unable to confirm the report, although they were in communication with the Free State commandant at Roundwood.

Those who have seen DeValera lately said his health is giving away from the constant strain. He is worn and haggard. The Republican movement, already tottering is expected to collapse completely when DeValera is taken. De Valera has been a fugitive since the Four Courts battle in Dublin last June. DeValera took part in this engagement, when the rebels were beaten DeValera and his followers fled from Dublin. They have been conducting guerrilla warfare ever since but their resources and strength have steadily grown less. Many Republican leaders have either been killed in action or else were executed by Free State firing squads. DeValera, leader of the men, and Countess Markiewicz, leader of the rebel women, were the only two prominent chiefs at large.

DAIRY PRODUCTS SOLD IN OHIO BY CO-OPERATIVE PLAN

Columbus, April 16.—E. D. Wald, dairy marketing director of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation, announced that co-operative associations of producers for the sale of Ohio dairy products now are operating in practically every section of Ohio. Representatives of the state believe co-operative dairy marketing enterprises in Ohio never were in better shape. Associations now operating are devoting their major attention to selling milk and cream, with handling of products, such as butter, cheese and condensed milk being developed in a few sections. In Cleveland more than 100 dealers are getting their milk for distribution from an association of milk producers covering the territory producing milk for that city. The farmers pool their milk, which is sold to the dealers through the central association. The same conditions prevail in the other large cities of the state.

CHIROPRACTORS ARE BEHIND MOVEMENT

Columbus, O., April 16.—The Ohio State branch of the National Chiropractors Association, at the annual convention here yesterday, went on record as endorsing the stand taken by the chiropractors who refused to pay fines and went to jail instead, when convicted of practicing without passing the state medical board examination.

GRAIN FUTURES ACT HELD CONSTITUTIONAL BY SUPREME COURT

Measure Designed to Prevent Manipulation of Grain
Markets on Board of Trade and Exchanges
Is O. K'd.

Washington, April 16.—The United States Supreme Court today declared constitutional the grain futures trading act designed to prevent manipulation of the grain markets on boards of trade and exchanges.

The first grain futures act was declared unconstitutional by the court because Congress sought to regulate the grain exchanges by using its taxing power.

The law was then amended, but was attacked by the Chicago Board of Trade and other big grain exchanges. Today's decision is final in giving the secretary of agriculture power to regulate the exchanges.

The new law was framed by leaders of the "farm bloc" to meet the objections raised by the Supreme Court in declaring the original regulatory law invalid.

The law makes it unlawful to deliver for transmission through the mails, by wire or wireless any offer, confirmation, price quotations or contract of sale of grain for future delivery on any board of trade; to make such contract of sale to be used for hedging, determining price in interstate commerce, or delivery of grain in interstate commerce under it.

Exceptions to this general prohibition are sales made by the actual growers or owners of the grain, owners or renters of the land on which it is grown or an association of such owners, growers or renters, and by or through a member of a board of trade designated by the secretary of agriculture as a contract market.

SUIT FILED IN HIGH COURT OF STATE WILL TEST ROAD QUESTION

Right of Governor to Hold
Up Contracts Will Be Decided

Columbus, April 16.—A suit has been filed in state supreme court to compel State Highway Director Herlick to proceed with the execution of the contract for four miles of concrete road in Jackson county. The action was instituted by Oather M. Junk, Chillicothe contractor, low bidder on the project. The Jackson county road was disapproved by Governor Donahy last week and Finance Director Baker was ordered to hold up the job. The contract, however, previously had been let to Mr. Junk, who alleged in his petition that Mr. Baker has no authority to delay it. The suit will test the right of the governor to hold up road contracts after they have been let. Should the court hold the chief executive has this authority it will give him absolute control of the highway department, with the exception of authority to remove the director. Estimated cost of the improvement was $150,000 and Mr. Junk's bid was $137,974.42. Jackson county commissioners have sold to the state industrial commission bonds aggregating $75,000 to pay the county's share of the cost.

These developments, marked the flood situation today over southwestern Texas, caused by the highest stages of the Neches and Sabine rivers in several years.

The Neches, which is causing the greatest damage, threatens to pass its record stage of 15 feet in 1915. Damage of $100,000 already has been done. The Orange Oil field is completely under water and all operations have ceased. No loss of life has been reported.

VESSEL ABANDONED WITH ALL SAILS SET FOUND OFF COAST

Evidence of Struggle
Strewn About Cabin
Deck

New York, April 16.—Another sea mystery and possibly tragedy has been added to the long list. Abandoned and with all sails set and the anchor down, the Nova Scotia schooner Patricia M. Behan, believed to be a rum runner, was found three miles off Long Island. Strew about the deck and cabin were sinister evidences of a struggle before the ship was deserted.

Dozen of empty rifle cartridges seemed to indicate that the crew of the rum runner had been attacked by pirates but suffered defeat in the battle. In the captain's cabin was found a box containing about a thousand cartridges with indications that some had been removed hurriedly. A gun rack in the master's quarters showed signs of having been emptied hurriedly. Torn leaves from a note book records sales of liquor in large amounts. No liquor or weapons were found on board. Everything that could be taken had been removed except clothes in the crew's quarters.

ROBIN HOODS CLAIM GAME BY FORFEIT

BAYLIFFS WHITEWASH BOWERSVILLE IN OPENING GAME

REDS SET FOR SEASON OPENING TUESDAY

BAYLIFFS WIN FIRST GAME

The Xenia Bayliffs opened the baseball season Sunday afternoon at Washington Park by handing the Bowersville nine, which team was made up mostly of local players, a 5 to 0 defeat in a seven inning practice game.

The Bayliffs touched the offerings of Griffith who hails from this city, for but four hits one of them being a two bagger by Frank Lehey. Griffith pitched fair ball considering it was the first game he twirled this season. He held the locals to four hits struck out three and gave five bases on balls. The Bowersville gang did not hold him up any too well making seven errors.

Rube Hall, who did the pitching for the Bayliffs twirled a fine game, The Bowersville bunch nipped him for but four hits while on the other hand he did not give a single base on balls and fanned eight men. The locals played a very good fielding game behind him and only made two bad plays in spite of the fact that the diamond was in very bad condition and the players slipped around very much.

The Bayliffs scored their first run in the second inning when, Tucker walked, Lehey fanned, Weider hit to E. Lehey and Lehey threw Tucker out at second while Weider got to first safely on Murrell's bad throw and went on to second. E. Lehey missed Furnas roller and Weider scored. Stony Fuller took three strikes and was out.

The locals added two more runs in the fifth. Tucker first man up, was safe on Leach's wild throw to the initial sack. F. Lehey doubled to left and Tucker scored. Lehey going to third on Woolary's bad peg. Weider popped to Bauernmeister. Furnas was out, Leach to Starkey while Lehey scored. Fuller fled to Murrell for the last out. The Bayliffs came back in the sixth and added two more runs for good measure. Schwab filled to Leach. Early walked. Ernie Randall hit to right field for a single. Early going to third on the hit. Hall was out, Griffith to Stiles and Stiles' tried to make a double play but his bad peg let both Early and Randall score. This ended the scoring. Tucker hit between short and third, Lehey walked but Weider shot an easy popper to Leach for the third out.

The Bowersville bunch threatened to score in the fifth when Bauernmeister singled to left. Wells fouled out to Randall. Woolary singled to right Bauernmeister going to third. Leach hit sharply to Furnas who threw to Randall and Bauernmeister was run down near third. Furnas getting the put out. Seveart fanned for the third out and Bowersville's chances for scoring were shot.

A fair sized crowd braved the weather to witness the contest and they were paid for their attendance as the game turned out to be an interesting affair. As to the stars of the game Tucker, F. Lehey, Randall and Early played some nifty ball, while Rube Hall, who did the pitching, held up his end of the game in a fine way. "Stony" Fuller, who performed at center field made three nice catches. "Stony" did not get a hit but the fans must remember that this was his first game and it will probably take him a little while to find his batting eye. The rest of the team also played some nice ball which helped the Bayliffs to come through with their first game. Bauernmeister, Wells and Woolary played in a very fitting manner for the Bowersville gang.

There will be a game at Washington Park next Sunday but just who the opposing nine will be is not known at the present. Roy Bayliff who pilots the Bayliffs thinks that his team needs another practice game before opening the season in order to get his team picked and at the same time give the players a good work out. Bayliff also wishes to announce that the regular price of admission will be 35 cents for any seat in the Park, while children under 12 years of age will be admitted for 10 cents.

Lineup of the teams: Bayliffs—Tucker 1b, F. Lehey 1f; Weider 2b; Furnas 3b; Fuller cf; Schwab rf; Early ss; E. Randall c; Hall p. Bowersville—Seveart c; Griffith p; Starkey 1b; Murrell 2b; E. Lehey ss; Bauernmeister rf; Wells cf; Woolary lf; Leach 3b.

LEAGUE BALL OPENS TUESDAY.

Many Xenians will be among the throngs of baseball fans expected to pack Redland Field, Cincinnati, Tuesday when the Reds and the St. Louis Cards, pry open the National League season.

There is a distinct change in schedules this year, for while all teams in the National League start off Tuesday, the American League race will not get under way until Wednesday, whereas in former years both teams started on the same day. Manager Pat Moran, of the Reds, says his team is in tip-top shape for the four-day set-to with the Cardinals starting Tuesday. With Roush back in the fold the 1922 team is practically intact, with the exception of Jake Daubert, the veteran first baseman, who will be out of the game for awhile. Finseca, utility doorman, will hold down the first station.

While pre-game predictions are seldom followed out, Manager Moran has announced that Pete Donahue, one of the best hurlers to enter the League in years, will perform on the hillcock Tuesday. It had previously been announced Eppa Rixey would get the opening day assignment, but as far as predictions are concerned, it will not be known who will get the call until the ump's make the first announcement. Many Xenians have had their pasteboards for several weeks and will be on hands for the opening clash.

ROBIN HOODS CLAIM FORFEIT. The Robinhood baseball team claims a victory over the Orient Hill Reds, by the forfeit route. The Robin Hoods claim the Orient Hill crowd did not show up for the scheduled game Saturday morning.

RUHR FRAGAS TO HELP U. S. MOVIE FIELD IN FRANCE

Washington, April 16.—The irritation caused by the French occupation of the Ruhr has greatly reduced the number of German motion picture films exported to and exhibited in France, thereby opening the way for American companies, according to a report to Secretary of Commerce Hoover from the American Commercial Attache in Paris.

The competition of the United States and Germany in the French motion picture industry had become so keen before the occupation, the attache stated, that the Committee Intersyndicale de Industrie Cinematographique Francaise addressed to its representatives in the Chamber of Deputies vigorous protests against this foreign development.

In these protests it was pointed out that France is far behind the United States in the production of motion pictures. The members of the French motion picture organization admitted, however, that this condition was due in a certain degree to the limitations of the French market, France having only about 2,500 movie houses, while the United States has 17,000 and Germany has 8,000.

The French producers expect many of their movie theatres to close this Spring, despite the fact that even now French production cannot live on the home market. The expense involved in producing elaborate pictures is so great that if the French succeed at all, they must have an extensive acceptance abroad, where, however, they come into contact with the big American and German companies.

Leaders in the French motion picture industry are said to agree that the remedy lies in the reduction of taxes placed against movie theatres by the Government.

DO YOUR CHILDREN GROW FAST ENOUGH?

Are They Sturdy, Healthy, and Strong, or Pale, Weak and Run Down?

Growing children need a great deal of food, and sometimes they will not eat the kind of food that they need for strength—then they become thin, pale, and run down.

This condition of undernourishment can be corrected by taking Father John's Medicine, which does contain just the food elements such children need, and that is why so many children gain weight regularly while they are taking this old-fashioned family medicine.

Father John's Medicine is an expertly blended preparation of cod liver oil with other ingredients in such a way that its food elements can be easily taken up by those who are weakened and run down. Your friends and neighbors know its value. Thousands of mothers depend upon it to keep their children well and strong.

"AN ESSENTIAL STEP."

Last Wednesday Herbert Hoover carried the war for peace into the Land of the Isolationists. He spoke at Des Moines, Ia., to the National League of Women Voters and to the mid-West. On the eve of his trip Tuesday he talked with the President. It is fair to assume that the President knew what Secretary Hoover would say in Des Moines.

That address, then, gives actual indication of the Administration's attitude toward our entrance into the Permanent Court of International Justice, as proposed by the President. In measured words, chosen with the care of an engineer picking the girders that shall bridge a deep ravine, Secretary Hoover recommitted the Administration and a great section of the Republican Party to what he describes as

"... one more and an essential step on the road of fundamentals to all real peace and that is the maintenance of good will through the elimination of the causes of war."

In Secretary Hoover's opinion the World Court is not a "side-door" way into the League of Nations, nor will it lead us into the League. As this Administration spokesman sees it, it is one more step on the road we have traveled since March, 1921. By its Naval Treaty and the Pacific and Far East pacts, the Washington Arms Conference withered sprouting seeds of war. Recently we fathered the Five-Nation Central American Conference that insures peace there. We are now at Santiago working for peace and good will. The World Court offers us one more opportunity to strive for conciliation.

The Secretary's plea was that in our rejection of one plan, or one device for conciliation and peace, we shall not reject all other plans. He reminded the Nation's women and the timorous mid-West that the court is a court of law and not a political caucus, that public opinion and not force will back its verdicts and that nowhere can it exercise compulsion. The Secretary reassures the timid who fear we may be going too far and points out that for known reasons we cannot go along with Senator Borah and his plan to "outlaw war." Those who condemn the proposal because it does not go all the way he says

"... are the ones who would have complained on Wednesday night of Genesis and gone to bed with a grouch because the Creator had not made a finished job of the sun and moon and would have called a mass-meeting on Thursday morning to demand more forward action."

The moral is that a new world cannot be created in one day or three days. It must become a step at a time; and those stuffed with pride of opinion who refuse to go along unless their ideas are accepted in full are hindering the task.

WOMEN IN WORLD POLITICS.

Women in the United States, as well as those in other nations where the right of suffrage has been extended to them, have voluntarily accepted a trust which they now should stand ready to fulfill. Political equality in voting implies equality of leadership, the courage to demand economic and social reforms, the willingness to defend, at home and in public, those constructive measures which they so long sympathetically supported while denied a deciding or controlling voice. In the history of the world it is doubtful if there ever was a time when this moral leadership which the women are prepared to supply was so greatly needed as at present. To bring about those accomplishments without which retrogression can hardly be avoided, the moral forces of the world are awaiting an impelling, marshaling influence.

It is gratifying that thus far, in the councils of American women at least, there has been indicated no disposition to shirk or to regard indifferently the newly accepted responsibilities. In their clubs and voters' organizations there has been manifested, especially in recent months, a determination to resolve the great political, economic, and social problems of the American nations, if not of the world into tangible issues. The problem of world peace, first of all, demands the forceful yet sympathetic consideration of the courageous and progressive women of the twentieth century. In the United States, if the opinion of the active, thinking women may be appraised from expressions and activities in their clubs and associations, the almost unanimous demand is for the active participation of their Government in an effective world organization which shall promote and perpetuate peace. There is no doubt that women the world over are opposed to every form of warfare. It is equally true that they possess the power and influence, if properly exerted, to prevent war.

BUYING THE OLD HOME FARM.

From the little town of Mount Gilead, Ohio, a few days ago, came a short news item telling of the purchase by President Harding of the old farm in North Bloomfield township, Morrow County, where he lived and worked and played as a barefoot boy. Through a boyhood friend, now naturally enough the postmaster of Marion, the President's home city, Mr. Harding negotiated the terms of the purchase, and arrangements have already been made to rearrange the premises and to erect a modern bungalow. Those whose earliest recollection is of days spent in the freedom of a farm realize how gratifying it is even to a man as busy with big affairs as the President, to bring to fruition an ambition, a cherished dream, of years. Few boys who have gone out into the world to meet its successes and its failures have put aside the hope that some day they might return to possess as their own the unpretentious habitation around which so many tender memories linger.

On the President's farm there will be laid out a more or less pretentious golf course, where the distinguished host and his friends, some of them perhaps the companions of his boyhood days, will test their skill in the very pasture lot where once they played. Country boys, at the time of President Harding's days on the old farm, were not the adepts at baseball that the boys of today are. The ball, if one fortunately was possessed by the players, was usually of yarn, clumsily covered, and harmless.

Now, on the greens, there will be more dignified discussions by the "boys" who have grown older and more sedate. They will speak in a vernacular new to the denizens of the woods and fields, and new, perhaps, to the neighbors, who will stop their motors or their wagons by the roadside to see their former neighbor who, after achieving a high estate, has come back to play on the old farm. And there will be other "boys," also grown older, who will look with pleasure toward the little Ohio town, happy that another of their number has made his fondest dream a reality. Many an unused springboard, many a singing and gurgling trout stream, and many an overgrown baseball field awaits the homecoming of those boys of a former day who have wandered far from their old haunts. It is pleasant to remember that dreams and promises have surprising ways of being fulfilled.

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Right of way has been secured from Yellow Springs to Clifton to build an electric road. The farmers along the line have mostly noted the right of way. Ex-Governor Bushnell is having the work done, and having come into possession of the S. and X. instead of building a line from Springfield to Clifton will run the S. and X. from there down to Yellow Springs and will use the Clifton spur to connect with his road to Cedarville, Jamestown, Jeffersonville and Washington, C. H.

Mr. Albert Thornhill is contemplating the erection of two handsome cottage on Chestnut Street, Spring Hill, this summer. Six new homes have been erected on that street in the past year.

A land deal has about been affected on Spring Hill by which a street running parallel with Detroit Street will shortly be opened up, extending from Spring Street south through Rogers avenue and thence on to Thornhill avenue, opening up a tract of land almost a quarter of a mile in length and where some splendid building lots will be laid out.

Personality is an art that is not difficult to cultivate. You'll notice I say "not difficult." I'm not saying it's easy, there's a distinction there. How, you will ask, is personality to be cultivated?

It's hard to answer that, for the cultivation is through any number of tiny details. You must look well, if possible, for prettiness helps, though it is by no means an essential. You should possess a certain amount of physical vitality. The listless, tired-out woman is rarely attractive to others. Physical vitality unfortunately depends upon good health. So does animation, which is one of the details whose sum means "personality."

But the most important thing is to be interested in others, and that luckily, is a state of mind that anyone can cultivate, in good health or bad, with brains or without, with good looks or ugliness. I don't of course, mean that busy-body interest in others with which we are only too familiar—that's not an attractive characteristic. I mean a sincere, friendly, helpful sort of interest. That will win people to you more readily than perfect beauty, smart clothes, or enormous intelligence.

Now if you want to apply this lesson directly to yourself, and if you are not quite sure what "a friendly helpful interest" is, try this—

Be most awfully interested in the doings, the ideas, the history, the enthusiasms, of the person you happen at any one moment to be with. We all love to talk about ourselves, you know. You be a good listener—and see how popular you will become.

Today's Talk

Belief is the forerunner of realization. It is said of Stevenson that "when all was dark, he pointed his telescope right into the blackness, and found a star."

The trouble with most of us is that we seek the lower lands of travel rather than the heights.

The sun always hits the high spots first!

And happiness comes to those who make it a habit to be happy.

Learn to isolate your most satisfying thoughts that they may grow and accumulate the very fact of happiness and draw out the best qualities of your nature.

But walk right through the thick of the world. Take its knocks and feel its facts so that you are sidetracked by no foolish boast or neglect.

There can be no comfort for us in anyone who does not appreciate and know.

When we begin to divide the results of our faith by genuine service to others, we are making happiness a tangible affair. And our optimism becomes something of worth and is practical.

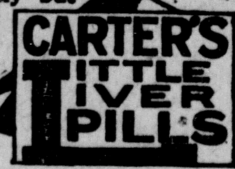

The high and happy spots are the ones that we choose of our own accord. They are not picked out for us. Those who have come to make happiness a practice, are those who have earned its every reward.

I quote from a prayer of Stevenson's: "Give us to awake with smiles, give us to labor smiling; as the sun lightens the world, so let our loving-kindness make bright this house of our habitation."

WELSH SINGERS IN XENIA GIVE WELL RENDERED PROGRAM

The Princess Rhonda Welch Male Glee Singers, rendered a varied program of chorus solos, and duets, Saturday evening, at the First Presbyterian Church, to a small but appreciative audience.

The company of sixteen Welsh coal miners showed remarkable skill and unusual talent. The baritone duet was especially pleasing, and the lyric tenor could not be excelled.

Professor Morgan, the director interpreted the chorus with great feeling. The Xenia appearance was the 15th concert during the first tour of America for the chorus. In 1913 the chorus won the International Championship at Pittsburgh, and then return to enlist in the World War.

The Glee Singers appeared in a sacred concert Sunday evening, in connection with the Triangle Union services at the First Presbyterian Church, interpreting a number of difficult choruses interspersed with solos. The audience, a much larger one, was highly complimentary in its appreciation. The chorus left Xenia for Springfield, and will then go to Columbus.

FOUR INJURED WHEN HIT BY AUTO ON SUNDAY

XENIA GIRLS BADLY HURT; DRIVER OF CAR SENTENCED TO JAIL

May Oglesbee, 19, and Martha Herr, 10, Most Seriously Injured—Two Ammer Children Also Victims of Machine Driven by Howard Fox

Miss May Oglesbee, 19, daughter of Volchka Oglesbee, 130 Hill Street, is in Espey Hospital, suffering from painful injuries. Martha Herr, aged 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Herr, 42½ East Main Street is at her home seriously injured and two other children are suffering from slight bruises, received when the party of four was struck by an automobile at Main and Detroit streets at seven o'clock Sunday evening.

Howard "Zeke" Fox, 30, driver of the automobile, was arrested after the accident by Patrolman Charles Simms and locked up on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. He entered a plea of guilty Monday morning and was fined $100 and costs by Judge E. D. Smith in Police Court and sentenced to serve 60 days in the County Jail.

George Ammer, 10 and Charles Ammer, 7, children of Mr. and Mrs. K. Ammer, 5 East Main Street, received cuts and bruises but were not seriously hurt. Martha Herr is suffering from concussion of the brain, and possible internal injuries. The machine struck her left hip, one wheel partly passing over the hip, and her right side is bruised. Dr. George Davis, the attending physician, said Monday that it would be impossible to determine the true effects of her injuries for another 24 hours. She was suffering considerably Monday.

Miss Oglesbee was rendered unconscious when she was thrown to the street when struck by the car. She was taken immediately to the Espey hospital where she regained consciousness late Sunday night. She is suffering from bruises about the head and face and injuries about the chest, but her condition is not considered serious, according to Dr. A. D. DeHaven, attending physician. She is still a patient at the hospital.

The four young people were walking across Main Street, from the north to the south side of the street, toward the Ammer confectionery, when the accident happened. They had gained the south side of the street when Fox, driving his machine north on Detroit Street, turned east on Main Street. Witnesses say the car was traveling at a high rate of speed, and that the driver, when he had apparently avoided the pedestrians suddenly turned his machine, a Ford rebuilt into a speedster, directly into them.

The injured were carried into the Ammer confectionery from where Miss Oglesbee was removed to the hospital and the little Herr girl to her home. George and Charles Ammer, although knocked down, received only skin abrasions on the legs and knees and suffered slightly from shock.

The arrest of Fox makes the second time he has been taken into custody for a similar offense, police say. Several weeks ago he was arrested for driving an automobile while intoxicated.

CHARLES CLYDE DAVIS, COLUMBUS.

World's Champion Horseshoe Pitcher Tells How He Gained Weight, Strength, Endurance By Taking Ka-di-ek.

Mr. Chas. Clyde Davis, world's champion horseshoe pitcher, who won a championship at St. Petersburg, Florida, from a large field of contestants, and who formerly conducted the horseshoe arena at 509 Gustavus Lane, Columbus, in a recent conversation with the Ka-di-ek expert said: "I put in a hard season giving exhibitions of horseshoe pitching and in playing numerous matches with the best pitchers in the country. Pitching horseshoes brings every muscle in the body into play; the game also requires steady nerves, a good eye for distance and head work. Of course, I may be biased, but I candidly think that horseshoe pitching is one of the best games in the world. I can get more real pleasure and exercise out of it than any other game I know of. In my match with Charles Bobbitt of Lancaster, Ohio, which I won with six frames to his four, and which lasted three and a half hours, I figure I walked over three miles and threw a total weight of 1550 pounds of steel the same distance."

Mr. Davis further continued: "I have always enjoyed good health and have a good constitution, but last fall I felt all in, down and out; I was tired all the time and had no energy or ambition to do anything; I had no appetite, failed to sleep well and was several pounds under weight. I read about Ka-di-ek in the Columbus papers and started to take it. I can truthfully say that it is the best tonic and system builder I ever heard of. I am hungry all the time now and have gained a whole lot of weight, although I exercise a great deal every day. I am as strong and well as I ever was in my life and I give Ka-di-ek full credit for it. I'll tell the world it is a mighty good medicine."

SLAYER OF PHILADELPHIA CHILD ON TRIAL

Mr. & Mrs. Robert Gilmore & Elsie, Robert & Lillian Gilmore, Wylie Morgan, Dorothy Gilmore

The trial of Wylie F. ("Texas") Morgan for the murder of little six year old Lillian Gilmore has been begun in Philadelphia. So strong is the sentiment against the confessed murderer that great difficulty was encountered in selecting the jury. Little Lillian was playing in front of her home with her sister, Dorothy, when they were invited by Morgan to go for an automobile ride. Little Dorothy saw Morgan repeatedly attack and then kill her sister, whose body he threw under a tree stump, 20 miles from Philadel phia. Then he took Dorothy to a spot near her home and left her. Morgan was arrested, when he confessed and led the police to the spot where the child's body was found. There were many threats of lynching. The slain girl was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilmore.

The first one with through Cedarville, Clifton and Yellow Springs, and the second through Alpha, Spring Valley and Bellbrook. This was in connection with the campaign of William Harrison for president. The speakers were Hon. ## A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

CHAPTER LX

Ann had many times tried to act as if she either did not notice or that she enjoyed Grace's and Dick's nonsense, but now she determined to try harder than ever to hide her feelings; to join with them.

"Hell, Norton," Dick said as he and Grace came up to the porch. "Stay to dinner, Grace is going to, and we'll have a game of bridge afterward."

"Do, Hugh," Ann added, saying nothing to Grace, whom she had not expected to remain.

"Thanks, I'd enjoy it," Hugh said, then led Dick to talk of his crops, how his young trees were coming on, so rather shutting Grace out of the conversation while Ann went in to attend to the dinner, to tell Nora they were to have guests.

When she returned to the porch Grace was sitting in the hammock, and Ann at once went over and sat beside her, and complimented her costume.

"I don't wonder you like it," Grace replied carelessly, "but if it wasn't for Dick there'd be no use wearing anything smart. He's the only appreciates them."

"Didn't I just tell you I liked your dress?" Ann answered.

"Oh, yes! But one doesn't dress for a woman."

Ann said nothing more, but Grace brought up the subject at the table.

"Ann thinks women dress to please each other, Dick," she said.

"Well, what of it?" he replied.

"It shows how little she knows of the world, her innocence!" It was almost a sneer, that last word.

"I think were I able to afford dainty, expensive things, and lived where I could wear them appropriately, I should like to wear them to please myself, my love of beauty," Ann said quietly.

"I don't see but you look as well as anyone, Ann," Hugh said.

"Of course you'd say that! Everyone knows you're in love with Ann. Don't blush, Ann, it isn't any crime, I've been in love with Dicky ever since I first saw him."

Ann's face was crimson, and Hugh looked as if he would like to strangle Grace, but Dick only laughed, and returned:

"Your being in love wouldn't mean anything, Grace."

"Don't be too sure, Dicky. I may not be as safe as you think."

Hugh changed the subject to Ann's relief, yet all through dinner her face flamed. She had caught a look in Hugh's eyes that showed he was hurt. And she felt as if in some way Grace's last speech was a threat, that she would now try harder than ever to win Dick.

The evening passed pleasantly enough. And Hugh took Grace home. Ann was glad he had stayed to do that. Dick had been very gay, but after they left he said:

"Ann, why do you wear that color? it's unbecoming."

"Why, Dick! You used to say brown was my color, that you loved me in it."

"Oh, well, our ideas change. I wish you'd get something new, things like Grace wears."

Ann bit her lips to keep back the reply that hovered there. Grace had made fun of her, her taste in dress. After a moment she said:

"I will get some new clothes, Dick. But the things Grace wears would bankrupt us, and would be very inappropriate for your wife. We are ranchers, Dick, not society people."

"Suit yourself—I only thought—"

"Thought what, Dick?" as he hesitated, she interrupted.

"That perhaps you would like to look like other people."

Heart-sick as she was so often, Ann said no more. She was always dainty and neat in her print frocks, which she made herself, or in the soft brown crepe, her best dress, which she had donned while attending to the dinner, and which, while simply made, was undoubtedly becoming.

But now Grace had made Dick think she looked badly in it. She had loved to wear it because of his compliment when she first made it. It was only a little thing, another of those pin pricks which hurt a loving woman, but it kept her awake half the night.

The next day Ann wrote for samples of new goods. She would make herself a different dress, one that would make her look younger, a gayer affair, but she would carefully abstain from copying anything of Grace's, neither would she let her know she had made it because of anything she had said to Dick.

The samples came and she selected a creamy crepe, ordered it, also a fashion magazine. She would do everything she could to keep Dick. She realized that she must.

Yet somehow Ann felt ashamed of that this was necessary.

Why?

WHY waste time in useless "shopping around" when the advertisements lay before you the choicest wares of every progressive merchant in town?

Why use needless effort in an endless store-to-store quest when the advertisements enable you to make your choice of the finest merchandise without even leaving your home?

Why pay more than you ought when you can stretch your dollar to the elastic limit by taking advantage of the bargains and good buys that are daily advertised in this paper?

Why risk dissatisfaction by buying unknown, unbranded goods when you can assure yourself complete satisfaction by buying an advertised product, backed by the integrity of a man who spends real money to establish his name and to build up public good will?

Read the advertisements. Buy advertised wares. It is a safe and sound policy

BELIEVE LAW'S GOVERNMENT NOW DOOMED

Premier However, Denies
That He Will Resign Account of Health

LLOYD GEORGE ACTIVE
Reports Indicate Friction
Within Cabinet Adds
To Trouble

London, April 16.—Despite Premier Andrew Bonar Law's prompt denial that he will resign on account of impaired health and the loss of political prestige, hostile newspapers predicted today that his Tory government could not last three months longer. Friendly newspapers emphasized the premier's denial, charging that reports of impending resignation are due to systematic propaganda put out by former Premier David Lloyd George, Austen Chamberlain and their supporters.

Newspapers supporting the Bonar Law administration claim that the Liberal and unionist adherents of Lloyd George are doing their utmost to weaken the prestige of the Bonar Law government. They assert that Chamberlain, Lord Birkenhead, Sir Robert Horne and others who were in the Lloyd George cabinet are anxious to remove Bonar Law.

From all reports it is apparent that there is friction within the cabinet which adds to the cares of the premier.

The "die hard" element is in control while the more liberal members are ignored. It seems fairly certain, however, that Bonar Law will not quit until he can find a successor agreeable to both factions of the ministry.

It was regarded as possible that Chancellor of the Exchequer Stanley Baldwin might make such a popular hit with his budget this afternoon that he would be acclaimed the logical successor to Bonar Law. Chancellor Baldwin introduced many popular measures in the budget, such as a reduction of the income tax.

Bonar Law is suffering from a throat ailment which causes much annoyance. It is difficult for him to talk at times. Otherwise he seems to be in fairly good condition. He is able to play tennis frequently. He has the appearance, however, of a man physically and mentally tired. He lacks the robust energy of Lloyd George, the sturdy Welsh statesman.

The Daily Chronicle, which is close to Lloyd George, understands that he has received two invitations to visit America. One was from the United States; the other from Canada. The former premier replied that, owing to the uncertain political situation he could not give a definite answer at this time. If Lloyd George accepts, his itinerary is expected to include Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Washington and possibly Denver.

MISS ROBERTSON NAMED TO BUREAU

Washington, April 16.—President Harding today signed an executive order permitting the appointment of Miss Alice Robertson, former congresswoman from Oklahoma as a welfare worker in the United States Veterans' Bureau. Miss Robertson was defeated for reelection last year.

The exact nature of her new duties have not been defined. The purpose of the executive order was to set aside the civil service regulations so the appointment could be made without examination.

RECEIVER TAKES OVER STEEL PLANT

Columbus, Ohio, April 16.—Acting under authority of Franklin County Common Pleas Judge Sowers, Attorney Fred N. Sinks, Columbus, today in his capacity as receiver, took charge of the Pittsburgh Tin Plate and Steel Corporation plant at Marietta. The plant covers 12 acres.

The action of the local court was in response to a request by Armstrong and Okey, Columbus stenographic firm, for appointment of a receiver. It is claimed the Marietta corporation owes $18,000, as unpaid taxes; $16,000 as mechanics liens; $2,500 judgment liens; $70,000 on claims pending in the Washington County courts and $11,850, due Armstrong and Okey for stenographic services.

MOOSE TO ERECT BUILDINGS.

Columbus, April 16.—Moose lodges of Ohio soon are to erect a group of five buildings, to be known as the "Ohio Plaza," on the grounds of Mooseheart school at Mooseheart, Ill. The central building will be an exact replica of the state house here. This group of buildings will house Moose orphans of Ohio, and will be the pride of members of the order throughout the state.

LABOR LEADERS STIR PARLIAMENT

Ramsay MacDonald, Labor Leader of the British House of Commons, led the Laborites in their demonstration against the A. Bonar Law Cabinet, singing "Red" songs. The disorder was

Dancing Craze Continues; Court Unable To Stop It

Five Couples in New York One-Step From Floor to Truck
and Thence, Dancing, to New Jersey Side
To Evade Ordinance.

New York, April 16.—Without missing a single step, five couples out for marathon dancing honors one-stepped from a New York dancing floor early today to a truck, and dancing still, were ferried over to New Jersey beyond the jurisdiction of a New York court.

The court sought to end the dance under a section of the penal code passed in the early days of six day bicycle racing and which prohibits endurance contests for a longer period than twelve hours of every twenty four.

In New Jersey there are no such prohibitions and when the manager of the dance hall was served with a summons he transferred the whole tournament to another floor in Fort Lee, N. J. 12 miles distant where the contestants continued the grind that began at 7:10 Saturday night.

If they are still on their feet at 1:10 Tuesday afternoon, the record of 65 hours and 30 minutes, established yesterday at Houston, Texas, by Miss Magdalene Williams will be shattered by thirty minutes.

Houston, Texas, April 16.—Miss Magdalene Williams, a Texas beauty, having danced 65 hours and 30 minutes, ceased shuffling about at 3:08 p. m. Sunday, called it a record and went home waiting to hear from others in Cleveland, New York and Baltimore who aspire to be world champion long distance dancers.

The record was made at McMillan's dancing academy here, 21 couples having set forth at 9:15 p. m. Thursday with a cash prize and a trip to New York as the goal for the best record.

Miss Williams, a winner also in a recent beauty contest, danced steadily through two days and three nights and the greater part of a third day, while couple after couple, unable to stand the pace, dropped out. To the very last step, she exhibited very little exhaustion and for a swan song she staged as lively a one-step as she did on the first night.

Cleveland, April 16.—Russell Brady, 22 year old Irishman who set out to establish the supremacy of the male even on the dance floor, was forced to quit early today after 43 hours and 28 minutes of dancing. A physician told him if he continued longer he would probably be permanently lame.

Miss Madeline Gatschalk, who started her marathon dance at 3 p. m. Saturday, was still going strong at 9 o'clock today, after 42 hours, while number of others, with less hours to their credit were still in the contest for the honors now worn by Miss Williams.

WATCHMAN KILLED BY WHISKEY ROBBERS

Hammond, Ind., April 16.—Robert J. Anderson, watchman at the Hammond Distillery Company here was killed early today by whiskey bandits who made away with part of about 2,500 barrels of whiskey stored in the distillery.

Six men were in the raiding party, according to Joseph Stachura, relief watchman, overpowered by the bandits.

He furnished police with a partial description of the raiders and the truck in which they fled.

BLAMES OFFICIALS FOR LAXITY IN LAWS

Columbus, April 16.—Prohibition Director McDonald issued a statement declaring that enforcement of the prohibition laws would be easy if officials would keep inviolate their oaths of office. Too many policemen, constables and sheriffs, prosecuting attorneys, county commissioners, justices of the peace, mayors and even common pleas judges, McDonald said, fail to enforce the laws against bootleggers. "Some fail because of their appetite for booze, some for political and other unrighteous reasons," he said. "In two or three counties of the state the prosecuting attorney and the common pleas court apparently adopt every possible means to indict all the enforcement officers with only the inferior courts putting forth an honest effort to do their duty under the law."

PREACHER PROMISES TO STAND ON HEAD

Newport, Ky., April 16.—"If this church isn't filled Monday night I'll either stand on my head or eat my hat," said the Rev. James ("Big Jim") Cramer, Los Angeles evangelist, in a sermon at the First Baptist Church here, where he is conducting a revival.

The text of his sermon was "Riding Blind Baggage." It netted 25 converts.

Members of the congregation were surprised when the plate was passed and the deacons called out each donation of a quarter or more.

"Two bits!" called out the deacons and the response of the preacher was "thanks!"

"Four bits!" elicited the evangelist, "Bless you!"

"One buck!" drew forth one "Glory Hallelujah!"

CLARA PHILLIPS IN CENTRAL AMERICA DECLARES MEXICAN

Hammer Murderess Who
Escaped From Jail Said
To be in Honduras.

Mexico City, Mex., April 16.—Clara Phillips, notorious hammer murderess who made a sensational escape from jail in California several months ago, recently fled from Mexico City to Honduras, Central America, according to Valenta Quintana, chief of the Mexican secret service, who in an interview with International News Service today revealed the strenuous efforts of the Mexican authorities to capture the slayer.

She was accompanied by Jesse Carlsen and while here the couple was registered as "Mr. and Mrs. Carlsen, New Orleans."

Clara Phillips and her male companion registered at the Hotel St. Francis on January 23," said Senor Q. Intina.

(The St. Francis is a leading hotel in the heart of the business district.) "They were registered as Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Carlsen from New Orleans. They remained at the hotel three days, leaving there for a private residence located on one of the principal residential streets of Mexico City."

"The hotel clerk at the St. Francis, Juan Faustino, when shown a picture of the murderess identified her as the woman who occupied suite 11 as Mrs. Carlsen."

SENTENCED TO DIE BUT COURT ACTS

Canton, O., April 16.—Charles Brooks, sentenced to die in the electric chair by the common pleas court of Perry County was given a new lease on life by the court of appeals for this district in a decision handed down here today.

Brooks was sentenced by the Perry County court after he had pleaded guilty to first degree murder and the court had examined witnesses to determine the degree of guilt.

It developed that he at first told the court that he would employ his own attorney then later found himself unable to do so and asked for appointment of counsel.

In the meantime, he entered a plea of guilty but his attorney appealed on the ground that he did not comprehend the purpose of his actions and the appeals court granted a new trial. The case has involved many legal points in Ohio criminal laws.

DEVALERA AGAIN REPORTED CAUGHT

Dublin, April 16.—Eamonn De Valera, head of the Irish Republican movement and the most spectacular figure in turbulent Irish politics, was reported today to have been captured by Free State troops at Roundwood, County Wicklow, 25 miles from Dublin.

Up to noon, Free State military headquarters in Dublin were unable to confirm the report, although they were in communication with the Free State commandant at Roundwood.

Those who have seen DeValera lately said his health is giving away from the constant strain. He is worn and gaunt. The Republican movement, already tottering is expected to collapse completely when DeValera is taken. De Valera has been a fugitive since the Four Courts battle in Dublin last June. DeValera took part in this engagement. When the rebels were beaten DeValera and his followers fled from Dublin. They have been conducting guerrilla warfare ever since but their resources and strength have steadily grown less. Many Republican leaders have either been killed in action or else were executed by Free State firing squads. DeValera, leader of the men, and Countess Markiewicz, leader of the rebel women, were the only two prominent chiefs at large.

Columbus, April 16.—E. D. Wald, dairy marketing director of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation, announced that co-operative associations of producers for the sale of Ohio dairy products now are operating in practically every section of Ohio. Representatives of the association in various sections of the state believe co-operative dairy marketing enterprises in Ohio never were in better shape. Associations now operating are devoting their major attention to selling milk and cream, with handling of products, such as butter, cheese and condensed milk being developed in a few sections. In Cleveland more than 100 dealers are getting their milk for distribution from an association of milk producers covering the territory producing milk for that city. Farmers pool their milk, which is sold to the dealers through the central association. The same conditions prevail in the other large cities of the state.

GRAIN FUTURES ACT HELD CONSTITUTIONAL BY SUPREME COURT

Measure Designed to Prevent Manipulation of Grain
Markets on Board of Trade and Exchanges
Is O. K'd.

Washington, April 16.—The United States Supreme Court today declared constitutional the grain futures trading act designed to prevent manipulation of the grain markets on boards of trade and exchanges.

The first grain futures act was declared unconstitutional by the court because Congress sought to regulate the grain exchanges by using its taxing power.

The law was then amended, but was attacked by the Chicago Board of Trade and other big grain exchanges. Today's decision is final in giving the secretary of agriculture power to regulate the exchanges.

The new law was framed by leaders of the "farm bloc" to meet the objections raised by the Supreme Court in declaring the original regulatory law invalid.

The law makes it unlawful to deliver for transmission through the mails, by wire or wireless any offer, confirmation, price quotations or contract of sale of grain for future delivery on any board of trade; to make such contract of sale to be used for hedging, determining price in interstate commerce, or delivery of grain in interstate commerce under it.

Exceptions to this general prohibition are sales made by the actual growers or owners of the grain, owners or renters of the land on which it is grown or an association of such owners, growers or renters, and by or through a member of a board of trade designated by the secretary of agriculture as a contract market.

SUIT FILED IN HIGH COURT OF STATE WILL TEST ROAD QUESTION

Right of Governor to Hold
Up Contracts Will Be Decided

Columbus, April 16.—A suit has been filed in state supreme court to compel State Highway Director Herlick to proceed with the execution of the contract for four miles of concrete road in Jackson county. The action was instituted by Oather M. Junk, Chillicothe contractor, low bidder on the project. The Jackson county road was disapproved by Governor Donahy last week and Finance Director Baker was ordered to hold up the job. The contract, however, previously had been let to Mr. Junk, who alleged in his petition that Mr. Baker has no authority to delay it. The suit will test the right of the governor to hold up road contracts after they have been let. Should the court hold the chief executive has this authority it will give him absolute control of the highway department, with the exception of authority to remove the director. Estimated cost of the improvement was $150,000 and Mr. Junk's bid was $137,974.42. Jackson county commissioners have sold to the state industrial commission bonds aggregating $75,000 to pay the county's share of the cost.

The Neches, which is causing the greatest damage, threatens to pass its record stage of 15 feet in 1915. Damage of $100,000 already has been done. The Orange Oil field is completely under water and all operations have ceased. No loss of life has been reported.

VESSEL ABANDONED WITH ALL SAILS SET FOUND OFF COAST

Evidence of Struggle
Strewn About Cabin
Deck

New York, April 16.—Another sea mystery and possibly tragedy has been added to the long list. Abandoned and with all sails set and the anchor down, the Nova Scotia schooner Patricia M. Behan, believed to be a rum runner, was found three miles off Long Island. Strew about the deck and cabin were sinister evidences of a struggle before the ship was deserted.

Dozen of empty rifle cartridges seemed to indicate that the crew of the rum runner had been attacked by pirates but suffered defeat in the battle. In the captain's cabin was found a box containing about a thousand cartridges with indications that some had been removed hurriedly. A gun rack in the master's quarters showed signs of having been emptied hurriedly. Torn leaves from a note book records sales of liquor in large amounts. No liquor or weapons were found on board. ROBIN HOODS CLAIM GAME BY FORFEIT

BAYLIFFS WIN FIRST GAME

The Xenia Bayliffs opened the baseball season Sunday afternoon at Washington Park by handing the Bowersville nine, which team was made up mostly of local players, a 5 to 0 defeat in a seven inning practice game.

The Bayliffs touched the offerings of Griffith who hails from this city, for but four hits one of them being a two bagger by Frank Leheay. Griffith pitched fair ball considering it was the first game he twirled this season. He held the locals to four hits struck out three and gave five bases on balls. The Bowersville gang did not hold him up any too well making seven errors.

Rube Hall, who did the pitching for the Bayliffs twirled a fine game, The Bowersville bunch nicked him for but four hits while on the other hand he did not give a single base on balls and fanned eight men. The locals played a very good fielding game behind him and only made two bad plays in spite of the fact that the diamond was in very bad condition and the players slipped around very much.

The Bayliffs scored their first run in the second inning when, Tucker walked, Leheay fanned, Weider hit to E. Leheay and Leheay threw Tucker out at second while Weider got to first safely on Murrell's bad throw and went on to second. E. Leheay missed Farnas roller and Weider scored. Stony Fuller took three strikes and was out.

The locals added two more runs in the fifth. Tucker grst man up, was safe on Leach's wild throw to the initial sack. F. Leheay doubled to left and Tucker scored. Leheay going to third on Woolary's bad peg. Weider popped to Bauermeister. Farnas was out, Leach to Starkey while Leheay scored. Fuller fled to Murrell for the last out. The Bayliffs came back in the sixth and added two more runs for good measure. Schwab filed to Leach, Early walked, Ernie Randall hit to right field for a single Early going to third on the hit. Hall was out, Griffith to Stiles and Stiles tried to make a double play but his bad peg let both Early and Randall score. This ended the scoring. Tucker hit between short and third. Leheay walked but Weider shot an easy popper to Leach for the third out.

The Bowersville bunch threatened to score in the fifth when Bauermeister singled to left. Wells fouled out to Randall. Woolary singled to right Bauermeister going to third Leach hit sharply to Farnas who threw to Randall and Bauermeister was run down near third Farnas getting the put out. Severt fanned for the third out and Bowersville's chances for scoring were shot.

A fair sized crowd braved the weather to witness the contest and they were paid for their attendance as the game turned out to be an interesting affair. As to the stars of the game Tucker, F. Leheay, Randall and Early played some nifty ball, while Rube Hall, who did the pitching, held up his end of the game in a fine way. "Stony" Fuller, who performed at center field made three nice catches "Stony" did not get a hit but the fans must remember that this was his first game and it will probably take him a little while to find his batting eye. The rest of the team also played some nice ball which helped the Bayliffs to come through with their first game. Bauermeister, Wells and Woolary played in a very fitting manner for the Bowersville gang.

There will be a game at Washington Park next Sunday but just who the opposing nine will be is not known at the present. Roy Bayliff who pilots the Bayliffs thinks that his team needs another practice game before opening the season in order to get his team poked and at the same time give the players a good work out, Bayliff also wishes to announce that the regular price of admission will be 35 cents for any seat in the Park, while children under 12 years of age will be admitted for 10 cents.

Lineup of the teams: Bayliffs—Tucker 1b, F. Leheay lf; Weider 2b; Farnas 3b; Fuller cf; Schwab rf; Earley ss; E. Randall c; Hall p.

LEAGUE BALL OPENS TUESDAY

Many Xenians will be among the throngs of baseball fans expected to pack Redland Field, Cincinnati, Tuesday when the Reds and the St. Louis Cards, pry open the National League season.

There is a distinct change in schedules this year, for while all teams in the National League start off Tuesday, the American League race will not get under way until Wednesday, whereas in former years both teams started on the same day.

Manager Pat Moran, of the Reds, says his team is in tip-top shape for the four-day set-to with the Cardinals starting Tuesday. With Roush back in the fold the 1922 team is practically intact, with the exception of Jake Daubert, the veteran first baseman, who will be out of the game for awhile. Finseca, utility doorman, will hold down the first station.

While pre-game predictions are seldom followed out, Manager Moran has announced that Pete Donahue, one of the best hurlers to enter the League in years, will perform on the hilllock Tuesday. It had previously been announced Epps Rixey would get the opening day assignment, but as far as predictions are concerned, it will not be known who will get the call until the ump's make the first announcement. Many Xenians have had their pasteboards for several weeks and will be on hands for the opening clash.

ROBIN HOODS CLAIM FORFEIT.

RUHR FRAGAS TO HELP U. S. MOVIE FIELD IN FRANCE

Washington, April 16.—The irritation caused by the French occupation of the Ruhr has greatly reduced the number of German motion picture films exported to and exhibited in France, thereby opening the way for American companies, according to a report to Secretary of Commerce Hoover from the American Commercial Attache in Paris.

The competition of the United States and Germany in the French motion picture industry had become so keen before the occupation, the attache stated, that the Committee Intersyndicale de Industrie Cinematographique Francaise addressed to its representatives in the Chamber of Deputies vigorous protests against this foreign development.

In these protests it was pointed out that France is far behind the United States in the production of motion pictures. The members of the French motion picture organization admitted, however, that this condition was due in a certain degree to the limitations of the French market, France having only about 2,500 movie houses, while the United States has 17,000 and Germany has 8,000.

The French producers expect many of their movie theatres to close this Spring, despite the fact that even now French production cannot live on the home market. The expense involved in producing elaborate pictures is so great that if the French succeed at all, they must have an extensive acceptance abroad, where, however, they come into contact with the big American and German companies.

Leaders in the French motion picture industry are said to agree that the remedy lies in the reduction of taxes placed against movie theatres by the Government.

DO YOUR CHILDREN GROW FAST ENOUGH?

Are They Sturdy, Healthy, and Strong, or Pale, Weak and Run Down?

Growing children need a great deal of food, and sometimes they will not eat the kind of food that they need for strength—then they become thin, pale, and run down.

This condition of undernourishment can be corrected by taking Father John's Medicine, which does contain just the food elements such children need, and that is why so many children gain weight regularly while they are taking this old-fashioned family medicine.

Father John's Medicine is an expertly blended preparation of cod liver oil with other ingredients in such a way that its food elements can be easily taken up by those who are weakened and run down. Your friends and neighbors know its value. Thousands of mothers depend upon it to keep their children well and strong.

"AN ESSENTIAL STEP."

Last Wednesday Herbert Hoover carried the war for peace into the Land of the Isolationists. He spoke at Des Moines, Ia., to the National League of Women Voters and to the mid-West. On the eve of his trip Tuesday he talked with the President. It is fair to assume that the President knew what Secretary Hoover would say in Des Moines.

That address, then, gives actual indication of the Administration's attitude toward our entrance into the Permanent Court of International Justice, as proposed by the President. In measured words, chosen with the care of an engineer picking the girders that shall bridge a deep ravine, Secretary Hoover recommitted the Administration and a great section of the Republican Party to what he describes as

"one more and an essential step on the road of fundamentals to all real peace, and that is the maintenance of good will through the elimination of the causes of war."

In Secretary Hoover's opinion the World Court is not a "side-door" way into the League of Nations, nor will it lead us into the League. As this Administration spokesman sees it, it is one more step on the road we have traveled since March, 1921. By its Naval Treaty and the Pacific and Far East pacts, the Washington Arms Conference withered sprouting seeds of war. Recently we fathered the Five-Nation Central American Conference that insures peace there. We are now at Santiago working for peace and good will. The World Court offers us one more opportunity to strive for conciliation.

The Secretary's plea was that in our rejection of one plan, or one device for conciliation and peace, we shall not reject all other plans. He reminded the Nation's women and the timorous mid-West that the court is a court of law and not a political caucus, that public opinion and not force will back its verdicts and that nowhere can it exercise compulsion. The Secretary reassures the timid who fear we may be going too far and points out that for known reasons we cannot go along with Senator Borah and his plan to "outlaw war." Those who condemn the proposal because it does not go all the way he says are the ones who would have complained on Wednesday night of Genesis and gone to bed with a grouse because the Creator had not made a finished job of the sun and moon and would have called a mass-meeting on Thursday morning to demand more forward action.

The moral is that a new world cannot be created in one day or three days. It must become a step at a time; and those stuffed with pride of opinion who refuse to go along unless their ideas are accepted in full are hindering the task.

WOMEN IN WORLD POLITICS.

Women in the United States, as well as those in other nations where the right of suffrage has been extended to them, have voluntarily accepted a trust which they now should stand ready to fulfill. Political equality in voting implies equality of leadership, the courage to demand economic and social reforms, the willingness to defend, at home and in public, those constructive measures which they so long sympathetically supported while denied a deciding or controlling voice. In the history of the world it is doubtful if there ever was a time when this moral leadership which the women are prepared to supply was so greatly needed as at present. To bring about those accomplishments without which retrogression can hardly be avoided, the moral forces of the world are awaiting an impelling, marshaling influence.

It is gratifying that thus far, in the councils of American women at least, there has been indicated no disposition to shirk or to regard indifferently the newly accepted responsibilities. In their clubs and voters' organizations there has been manifested, especially in recent months, a determination to resolve the great political, economic, and social problems of the American nations, if not of the world into tangible issues. The problem of world peace, first of all, demands the forceful yet sympathetic consideration of the courageous and progressive women of the twentieth century. In the United States, if the opinion of the active, thinking women may be appraised from expressions and activities in their clubs and associations, the almost unanimous demand is for the active participation of their Government in an effective world organization which shall promote and perpetuate peace. There is no doubt that women the world over are opposed to every form of warfare. It is equally true that they possess the power and influence, if properly exerted, to prevent war.

BUYING THE OLD HOME FARM.

From the little town of Mount Gilead, Ohio, a few days ago, came a short news item telling of the purchase by President Harding of the old farm in North Bloomfield township, Morrow County, where he lived and worked and played as a barefoot boy. Through a boyhood friend, now naturally enough the postmaster of Marion, the President's home city, Mr. Harding negotiated the terms of the purchase, and arrangements have already been made to rearrange the premises and to erect a modern bungalow. Those whose earliest recollection is of days spent in the freedom of a farm realize how gratifying it is, even to a man as busy with big affairs as the President, to bring to fruition an ambition, a cherished dream, of years. Few boys who have gone out into the world to meet its successes and its failures have put aside the hope that some day they might return to possess as their own the unpretentious habitation around which so many tender memories linger.

On the President's farm there will be laid out a more or less pretentious golf course, where the distinguished host and his friends, some of them perhaps the companions of his boyhood days, will test their skill in the very pasture lot where once they played. Country boys, at the time of President Harding's days on the old farm, were not the adepts at baseball that the boys of today are. The ball, if one fortunately was possessed by the players, was usually of yarn, clumsily covered, and harmless.

Now, on the greens, there will be more dignified discussions by the "boys" who have grown older and more sedate. They will speak in a vernacular new to the denizens of the woods and fields, and new, perhaps, to the neighbors, who will stop their motors or their wagons by the roadside to see their former neighbor who, after achieving a high estate, has come back to play on the old farm. And there will be other "boys," also grown older, who will look with pleasure toward the little Ohio town, happy that another of their number has made his fondest dream a reality. Many an unused springboard, many a singing and gurgling trout stream, and many an overgrown baseball field awaits the homecoming of those boys of a former day who have wandered far from their old haunts. It is pleasant to remember that dreams and promises have surprising ways of being fulfilled.

JUST BECAUSE WE HAVE A NICE NEW IS NO SIGN WE CAN DEFY THE LAW OF GRAVITY

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Right of way has been secured from Yellow Springs to Clifton to build an electric road. The farmers along the line have mostly noted the right of way. Ex-Governor Bushnell is having the work done, and having come into possession of the S. and X. instead of building a line from Springfield to Clifton will run the S. and X. from there down to Yellow Springs and will use the Clifton spur to connect with his road to Cedarville, Jamestown, Jeffersonville and Washington, C. H.

Mr. Albert Thornhill is contemplating the erection of two handsome cottages on Chestnut Street, Spring Hill, this summer. Six new homes have been erected on that street in the past year.

A land deal has about been effected on Spring Hill by which a street running parallel with Detroit Street will shortly be opened up, extending from Spring Street south through Rogers avenue and thence on to Thornhill avenue, opening up a tract of land almost a quarter of a mile in length and where some splendid building lots will be laid out.

Personality is an art that is not difficult to cultivate. You'll notice I say "not difficult." I'm not saying it's easy, there's a distinction there. How, you will ask, is personality to be cultivated?

It's hard to answer that, for the cultivation is through any number of tiny details. You must look well, if possible, for prettiness helps, though it is by no means an essential. You should possess a certain amount of physical vitality. The listless, tired-out woman is rarely attractive to others. Physical vitality unfortunately depends upon good health. So does animation, which is one of the details whose sum means "personality."

But the most important thing is to be interested in others, and that luckily, is a state of mind that anyone can cultivate, in good health or bad, with brains or without, with good looks or ugliness. I don't, of course, mean that busy-body interest in others with which we are only too familiar—that's not an attractive characteristic. I mean a sincere, friendly, helpful sort of interest. That will win people to you more readily than perfect beauty, smart clothes, or enormous intelligence.

Now if you want to apply this lesson directly to yourself, and if you are not quite sure what "a friendly helpful interest" is, try this:

Be most awfully interested in the doings, the ideas, the history, the enthusiasms, of the person you happen at any one moment to be with. We all love to talk about ourselves, you know. You be a good listener—and see how popular you will become.

T. W. L.—Here is the answer to "Why do we say Davy Jones' Locker?" It means the receptacle or chest of the prophet Jonah. Jones is the sailor's corruption of Jonah. Davy is said to come from the West Indian negro word "duffy," meaning devil or evil spirit. Davy Jones is just Davy or Devil Jonah that is, he is the evil spirit of the sea. A locker in sailor's parlance means any receptacle, large or small, in which private stories are kept.

Today's Talk

Belief is the forerunner of realization. It is said of Stevenson that "when all was dark, he pointed his telescope right into the blackness, and found a star."

The trouble with most of us is that we seek the lower lands of travel rather than the heights.

The sun always hits the high spots first!

And happiness comes to those who make it a habit to be happy.

Learn to isolate your most satisfying thoughts that they may grow and accumulate the very fact of happiness and draw out the best qualities of your nature.

But walk right through the thick of the world. Take its knocks and feel its facts so that you are sidetracked by no foolish boast or neglect.

There can be no comfort for us in anyone who does not appreciate and know.

When we begin to divide the results of our faith by genuine service to others, we are making happiness a tangible affair. And our optimism becomes something of worth and is practical.

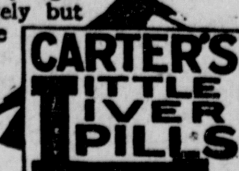

The high and happy spots are the ones that we choose of our own accord. They are not picked out for us. Those who have come to make happiness a practice, are those who have earned its every reward.

I quote from a prayer of Stevenson's: "Give us to awake with smiles, give us to labor smiling; as the sun lightens the world, so let our loving-kindness make bright this house of our habitation."

WELSH SINGERS IN XENIA GIVE WELL RENDERED PROGRAM

The Princess Rhonda Welch Male Glee Singers, rendered a varied program of chorus solos, and duets. Saturday evening, at the First Presbyterian Church, to a small but appreciative audience.

The company of sixteen Welsh coal miners showed remarkable skill and unusual talent. The baritone duet was especially pleasing, and the lyric tenor could not be excelled.

Professor Morgan, the director interpreted the chorus with great feeling. The Xenia appearance was the 164th concert during the first tour of America for the chorus. In 1913 the chorus won the International Championship at Pittsburgh, and then return to enlist in the World War.

The Glee Singers appeared in a sacred concert Sunday evening, in connection with the Triangle Union services at the First Presbyterian Church, interpreting a number of difficult choruses interspersed with solos. The audience, a much larger one, was highly complimentary in its appreciation. The chorus left Xenia for Springfield, and will then go to Columbus.

CAR STRIKES AUTO— NO ONE INJURED

Miss Katherine Buckles and Miss Edna Wolf of East Church Street, and Miss Gertrude Kendig of Dayton, were unhurt, when the Ford touring car in which they were riding was struck by a Springfield and Xenia traction car, at Church and Detroit Streets, Saturday evening at six o'clock.

The rain prevented the occupants of the machine noticing the approach of the car, until it was upon them. Miss Kendig, the driver, turning the machine to prevent a more serious accident. The car struck the machine in the rear, damaging the car slightly and tearing off the rear fender.

FOUR INJURED WHEN HIT BY AUTO ON SUNDAY

XENIA GIRLS BADLY HURT; DRIVER OF CAR SENTENCED TO JAIL

May Oglesbee, 19, and Martha Herr, 10, Most Seriously Injured—Two Ammer Children Also Victims of Machine Driven by Howard Fox

Miss May Oglesbee, 19, daughter of Volcha Oglesbee, 120 Hill Street, is in Espey Hospital, suffering from painful injuries. Martha Herr, aged 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Herr, 42½ East Main Street is at her home seriously injured and two other children are suffering from slight bruises, received when the party of four was struck by an automobile at Main and Detroit streets at seven o'clock Sunday evening.

Howard "Zeke" Fox, 30, driver of the automobile, was arrested after the accident by Patrolman Charles Simms and locked up on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. He entered a plea of guilty Monday morning and was fined $100 and costs by Judge E. D. Smith in Police Court and sentenced to serve 90 days in the County Jail.

George Ammer, 10, and Charles Ammer, 7, children of Mr. and Mrs. K. Ammer, 5 East Main Street, received cuts and bruises but were not seriously hurt. Martha Herr is suffering from concussion of the brain, and possible internal injuries. The machine struck her left hip, one wheel partly passing over the hip, and her right side is bruised. Dr. George Davis, the attending physician, said Monday that it would be impossible to determine the true effects of her injuries for another 24 hours. She was suffering considerably Monday.

Miss Oglesbee was rendered unconscious when she was thrown to the street when she was struck by the car. She was taken immediately to the Espey hospital where she remained unconscious late Sunday night. She is suffering from bruises about the head and face and injuries about the chest, but her condition is not considered serious, according to Dr. A. D. DeHaven, attending physician. She is still a patient at the hospital.

The four young people were walking across Main Street, from the north to the south side of the street, toward the Ammer confectionery, when the accident happened. They had gained the south side of the street, when Fox, driving his machine north on Detroit Street, turned east on Main Street. Witnesses say the car was traveling at a high rate of speed, and that the driver, when he had apparently avoided the pedestrians suddenly turned his machine, a Ford rebuilt into a speedster, directly into them.

The injured were carried into the Ammer confectionery from where Miss Oglesbee was removed to the hospital and the little Herr girl to her home. George and Charles Ammer, although knocked down, received only skin abrasions on the legs and knees and suffered slightly from shock.

The arrest of Fox makes the second time he has been taken into custody today for a similar offense, police say. Several weeks ago he was arrested for driving an automobile while intoxicated.

rested charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, at which time he ran into the machine driven by Richard Fisher, Wilmington, on Home Avenue, damaging Fisher's automobile. He paid a fine in Police Court at that time.

When arraigned first Monday morning Fox entered a plea of not guilty and asked for time to obtain an attorney. Unable to get legal counsel, he changed his plea and was immediately sentenced.

Do You Remember Some Reminiscences of Xenia's Past

When H. P. Sanborn was the genial host of the depot restaurant, and all through trains stopped for meals in Xenia and when it was the proper thing for those who desired to dine out, to go there for their meals. The dining room was the large room in the east end of the depot.

When the political parties campaigned with "walk arounds" and the two brilliant ones staged by the Republican Party in 1888, when every one who had a rig of any kind decorated for the occasion and fell in line on the day. The first one was through Cedarville, Clifton and Yellow Springs and the second through Alpha, Spring Valley and Bellbrook. This was in connection with the campaign of William Harrison for president. The speakers were Hon. John Little of Xenia, Henry Morey of Wilmington, candidate for Congress at that time, from this district, Robert Nevin and Levi Mills from Dayton.

TWO MEN SERIOUSLY HURT.

SLAYER OF PHILADELPHIA CHILD ON TRIAL

Robert & Lillian Gilmore - Wylie Morgan - Dorothy Gilmore

The trial of Wylie F. ("Texas") Morgan for the murder of little six year old Lillian Gilmore has been begun in Philadelphia. So strong is the sentiment against the confessed murderer that great difficulty was encountered in selecting the jury. Little Lillian was playing in front of her home with her sister, Dorothy, when they were invited by Morgan to go for an automobile ride. Little Dorothy saw Morgan repeatedly attack and then kill her sister, whose body he threw under a tree stump, 20 miles from Philadel phia. Then he took Dorothy to a spot near her home and left her. Morgan was arrested, when he confessed and led the police to the spot where the child's body was found. There were many threats of lynching. The slain girl was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilmore.

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

CHAPTER LX

Ann had many times tried to act as if she either did not notice or that she enjoyed Grace's and Dick's nonsense, but now she determined to try harder than ever to hide her feelings; to join with them.

"Hell, Norton," Dick said as he and Grace came up to the porch. "Stay to dinner, Grace is going to, and we'll have a game of bridge afterward."

"Do, Hugh," Ann added, saying nothing to Grace, whom she had not expected to remain.

"Thanks, I'd enjoy it," Hugh said, then led Dick to talk of his crops, how his young trees were coming on, so rather shutting Grace out of the conversation while Ann went in to attend to the dinner, to tell Nora they were to have guests.

When she returned to the porch Grace was sitting in the hammock, and Ann at once went over and sat beside her, and complimented her costume.

"I don't wonder you like it," Grace replied carelessly, "but if it wasn't for Dick there'd be no use wearing anything smart. He's the only one who appreciates them."

"Didn't I just tell you I liked your dress?" Ann answered.

"Oh, yes! But one doesn't dress for a woman."

Ann said nothing more, but Grace brought up the subject at the table. "Ann thinks women dress to please each other, Dick," she said.

"Well, what of it?" he replied.

"It shows how little she knows of the world, her innocence!" It was almost a sneer, that last word.

"I think were I able to afford dainty, expensive things, and lived where I could wear them appropriately, I should like to wear them to please myself, my love of beauty," Ann said quietly.

"I don't see but you look as well as anyone, Ann," Hugh said.

"Of course you'd say that! Everyone knows you're in love with Ann. Don't blush, Ann, it isn't any crime. I've been in love with Dicky ever since I first saw him."

Ann's face was crimson, and Hugh looked as if he would like to strangle Grace, but Dick only laughed, and returned:

"Your being in love wouldn't mean anything, Grace."

"Don't be too sure, Dicky. I may not be as safe as you think."

Hugh changed the subject to Ann's relief, yet all through dinner her face flamed. She had caught a look in Hugh's eyes that showed he was hurt. And she felt as if in some way Grace's last speech was a threat, that she would now try harder than ever to win Dick.

The evening passed pleasantly enough. And Hugh took Grace home. Ann was glad he had stayed to do that. Dick had been very gay, but after they left he said:

"Ann, why do you wear that color? It's unbecoming."

"Why, Dicky! You used to say brown was my color, that you loved me in it."

"Oh, well, our ideas change. I wish you'd get something new, things like Grace wears."

Ann bit her lips to keep back the reply that hovered there. Grace had made fun of her, her taste in dress.

After a moment she said:

"I will get some new clothes, Dicky. But the things Grace wears would bankrupt us, and would be very inappropriate for your wife. We are ranchers, Dicky, not society people."

"Suit yourself—I only thought—"

"Thought what, Dicky?" as he hesitated, she interrupted.

"That perhaps you would like to look like other people."

Heart-sick as she was so often, Ann said no more. She was always dainty and neat in her print frocks, which she made herself, or in the soft brown crepe, her best dress, which she had donned while attending to the dinner, and which, while stupidly made, was undoubtedly becoming.

But now Grace had made Dick think she looked badly in it. She had loved to wear it because of his compliment when she first made it. It was only a little thing, another of those pin pricks which hurt a loving woman, but it kept her awake half the night.

The next day Ann wrote for samples of new goods. She would make herself a different dress, one that would make her look younger, a gayer affair, but she would carefully abstain from copying anything of Grace's, neither would she let her know she had made it because of anything she had said to Dick.

The samples came and she selected a creamy crepe, ordered it, also a fashion magazine. She would do everything she could to keep Dick. She realized that she must.

Yet somehow Ann felt ashamed of that this was necessary.

CHARLES CLYDE DAVIS, COLUMBUS.

World's Champion Horseshoe Pitcher Tells How He Gained Weight, Strength and Endurance By Taking Ka-di-ock.

Mr. Chas. Clyde Davis, world's champion horseshoe pitcher, who won a championship at St. Petersburg, Florida, from a large field of contestants, and who formerly conducted the horseshoe arena at 509 Gustavus Lane, Columbus, in a recent conversation with the Ka-di-ock expert said: "I put in a hard season giving exhibitions of horseshoe pitching and in playing numerous matches with the best pitchers in the country. Pitching horseshoes brings every muscle in the body into play; the game also requires steady nerves, a good eye for distance and hand work. Of course, I may be biased, but I candidly think that horseshoe pitching is one of the best games in the world. I can get more real pleasure and exercise out of it than any other game I know of. In my match with Charles Bobbitt of Lancaster, Ohio, which I won with six frames to his four, and which lasted three and a half hours, I figured I walked over three miles and threw a total weight of 1550 pounds of steel the same distance."

Mr. Davis further continued: "I have always enjoyed good health and have a good constitution, but last fall I felt all in, down and out; I was tired all the time and had no energy or ambition to do anything; I had no appetite, failed to sleep well and was several pounds under weight. I read about Ka-di-ock in the Columbus papers and started to take it. I can truthfully say that it is the best tonic and system builder I ever heard of. I am hungry all the time now and have gained a whole lot of weight, although I exercise a great deal every day. I am as strong and well as I ever was in my life and I give Ka-di-ock full credit for it. I'll tell the world it is a mighty good medicine."

Ka-di-ock can be obtained at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store, Xenia.

Why?

WHY waste time in useless "shopping around" when the advertisements lay before you the choicest wares of every progressive merchant in town?

Why use needless effort in an endless store-to-store quest when the advertisements enable you to make your choice of the finest merchandise without even leaving your home?

Why pay more than you ought when you can stretch your dollar to the elastic limit by taking advantage of the bargains and good buys that are daily advertised in this paper?

Why risk dissatisfaction by buying unknown, unbranded goods when you can assure yourself complete satisfaction by buying an advertised product, backed by the integrity of a man who spends real money to establish his name and to build up public good will?

Read the advertisements. Buy advertised wares. It is a safe and sound policy
